The Mana House

The Mana House features a spacious, gracious, open-floor-plan that welcomes you with contemporary style and comfort. Offering three bedrooms and two bathrooms, designer furnishings with all amenities, washer, dryer and upgraded appliances, free Wi-fi, etc. Just fabulous for families and friends. The Mana House sits on the highest point of the seventeen acre Sewell Art Estate. It is located just minutes away from quaint Paia and Haiku Town, and right down the road from some of the best international surfing off Maui's famous North Shore. Just one mile away from stupendous Jaws, it is the perfect mid-way departure point to Lahaina or Hana. You can enjoy stand-up paddle at La Perouse, ride Pony Express horses in the crater and come "home" to a deep-tub bath and drink from a pineapple.

To Sculpture Garden

View from the Mana House looking towards Tom & Michelle's House.

Walk down the lawn, head right on the driveway as it opens up to the Sculpture Garden

Places to Go

Farmers Market in Pukalani between 6 AM - 11 AM Saturday Mornings

55 Kiopaa St. Makawao

Head to Makawao, and go through the town towards the Haleakala Highway. Go left on Haleakala Highway. Once you hit Kula, take a right before Long's Drugs. Then take an immediate left and you will see the Farmers Market and the parking lot for it.

Hookipa Beach (Surfer Beach)

Great for watching elite surfers from all over the world, along with some turtles and manta rays if you are swimming. Head west on Hana Highway, on the right before Mama's Fish House and Paia. Just look for the sign, the surfers, the waves.

Baldwin Beach

A locals spot, perfect for swimming and snorkeling, or sitting out on a huge sand beach. Also on the North Shore, on the right just after Paia. A cove on the right end for gentle entry. Walk way to the left end for Baby Beach and reef protected swimming area.

Makena Beach State Park (Big Beach)

South Maui's largest beach; south of Wailea open daily from 6am to 6pm. This beach has golden sand stretching 1.5 miles, and as wide as 100 feet in some places. Protected from the trade winds, Makena provides the perfect place for an afternoon snorkel and sunset over the ocean.

Haleakala National Park

Through Makawao, just head back on the Haleakala Highway, go left, and follow the signs to Haleakala, reaching all the way to the summit. This is a leave-at-4AM-trip. If you want to see the most spectacular sunrise (something definitely worth writing about), pack some snacks, grab a coffee on the drive up (at the only coffee stand between here and the summit that is open at 3 AM), bundle up and be ready for some breathtaking, mind-bending, hypnotic viewing of our Mother Earth's rotation and the awakening of our solar system's most magnificent creation. Reservations are required for sunrise 3am-7am (<https://www.nps.gov/hale/planyourvisit/haleakala-sunrise-reservations.htm>)

Iao Valley

A most spectacular hike; the valley envelopes you like a humble child in awe of the world around. To get there, take a right on East Kuiaha upon leaving the property. Turn left on Hana Highway for 13 miles, and continue on E. Kaahumanu. Turn right onto Kahului Beach Road, right on Waiehu Beach Road, and turn right at the fork, then you will arrive at Iao Valley. Of fascinating, historical significance; read the signs.

Hana Highway

30,000 Haleakala Hwy, Kula

Head to the Hana Highway, take a right (East) and just keep driving. The Road to Hana is known for sites like the Seven Sacred Pools, Twin Falls, The Garden of Eden Arboretum, the Bamboo Forests, Red Sands Beach, the Green Coasts, a ton of waterfalls, and Nahiku Market Place (great stop for a meal). It is perfect for a day trip, but we recommend leaving early because the drive to Hana is two hours each way, or go all around, and have the best driver drive. Some of those turns can be sharp and narrow!

The Maui Arts and Cultural Center (the MACC)

Want to check out some great art, see a theatrical production, a movie, a lecture or catch an annual community dance party? Google to find out what is happening at the MACC when you are in town. This center works as both an art exhibit show room, as well as a concert hall.

Hanzawa's Variety Store

1833 Kaupakalua Rd, Haiku (808) 298-0407

This will be your local convenience store and gas station. Just take a left on E. Kuiaha, then a right at the end of the road. The store will be a long block down on your left.

Our Nigerian Goats, Jack & his Mama, Louise

Tom's and Michelle's Favorite Eats

Mama's Fish House

799 Poho Pl, Paia (808) 579-8488

Priciest restaurant on our list, but well worth it. This magnificent establishment has been visited by every celebrity to have ever visited Maui and with good reason. Expect the most incredible and unique fish dishes, with sides of poi and Kailua (local kill) pork, and the perfect view of the North Shore. Call ahead for reservations, and call a few days in advance. They are usually completely booked, but happy hour and pupus or lunch at the bar are a great alternative.

Veg Out

810 Kokomo Road, Haiku (808) 575-5320

Simple, quick, vegetarian, delicious. The staff cares about getting you the healthiest and best tasting food they can. Beware, the vegan pina colada cake is to die for.

Nuka

780 Haiku Road, Haiku (808) 575-2939

Local sushi! Tempura Udon! Dynamite roll! Haleakala roll! Ahi salad! Fried ice cream! It just keeps getting better and better. Sushi supreme. Big favorite is the salmon bowl.

Cafe des Amis

42 Baldwin Ave in Paia (808) 579-6323

Relaxed eatery featuring a Mediterranean & Indian menu. Delicious crepes both sweet and savory...

Hali'imaile General Store

900 Hali'imaile Road, Makawao 808-572-2666

Hali'imaile General Store is Chef Bev Gannon's original and most acclaimed restaurant featuring eclectic American food with Asian overtones. Founded in 1988. The restaurant is open for lunch during weekdays, and nightly from 5 to 9pm.

Mana Foods

49 Baldwin Ave (808) 579-8078

Don't feel like eating out and looking for a place to pick up some groceries? Head to this place in Paia. The market has been there since 1983, and we still think it's the best grocery store on Maui. Parking lots to the left or right of the store. Great fresh produce section, salad bar, juices, and yummy delectables. Try the Happy Drink.

Jaws Country Market

4320 Hana Highway (808) 419-6887

Mini Market and lunch stop just up from the famous surf break, Jaws. Hosting local freshly made food, cold drinks, coffees and espressos and Maui-made gifts and merchandise. Known for their open faced veggie toast.

Colleen's

810 Haiku Road, (808) 575-9211

Left off Hana Highway, on the right in the Downtown Haiku Mall. Wonderful for breakfast, great for lunch and something for dinner. American-style restaurant with some twists.

La Provence

3158 Lower Kula Road (808) 878-1313

Beautiful pasteries and meringue. Cheesy, savory quiche (that's really what you're going there for). They're closed on Monday and Tuesday. Wed-Sun they're open from 7 AM - 9 PM. (Get there early to get your hands on some quiche).

Maui Lavendar Cafe

16631-16727 Crater Road, Kula (808) 250-2284

You cannot top the view at this place. Be sure to visit the mountainside lavender gardens, and honestly, everything on the menu is exquisite with lavender in it. Pick your choice.

Cafe Mambo

30 Baldwin Ave, Paia (808) 579-8021

Funky, vibrant restaurant serving a creative menu of locally sourced burgers, fajitas & salads. Sister restaurant to Cafe des Amis

Choice Health Bar

11 Baldwin Ave, Paia (808) 661-7711

Quaint breakfast-lunch restaurant featuring locally sourced vegan fare, raw entrees & smoothies.

Okay, time for the "House Rules"

1. We prefer to keep the property the sanctuary it is. Please avoid loud cell phone conversations that take place outside.
2. When locking your car, please lock it from the inside out, so as to not beep the horn. And be careful not to trigger the car alarm.
3. To empty your trash, there is a brown trash bin at the base of the deck.
4. Please take out your own recycling. Instructions and directions on following page. Thanks!
5. Please don't leave food out over night as it attracts unwanted pests.
6. In respect of other guests and neighbors, please drive slowly on the property
7. The house has filtered water. We encourage you to fill up re-usable bottles instead of buying plastic ones....this one isn't really a rule...more a friendly suggestion ;)

* If there are any immediate issues with WiFi, or Recycling questions etc, call Tom or Michelle. Michelle's parents Jeanie and Bill live in the cottage next door and are always here to help!

Marine Mammal & Sea Turtle Viewing “Code of Conduct”

NOAA’s National Marine Fisheries Service, NOAA’s National Marine Sanctuaries, and the State of Hawaii’s Department of Land and Natural Resources. NOAA recommends the following guidelines for viewing whales, dolphins, monk seals and sea turtles in Hawaii:

- Feeding marine mammals is prohibited by Federal law
- Remain at least 100 yards from humpback whales, >50 yards from other marine mammals
- Observe turtles from a distance; do not attempt to touch, ride, or feed turtles
- Marine mammals and sea turtles should not be encircled; if approached by a marine mammal or turtle while on a boat, put the engine in neutral and allow the animal to pass

A FEW TIPS FOR OUR GUESTS...

With all the crazy times we've all recently gone through, it's more important than ever to be able to communicate with one another! I've heard locals frustrated with tourists and tourists hurt because they're unwanted. A regular, local at the beach I go to every-day suggested everyone write some things they'd be able to offer a tourist and to ask some things from the tourists in the spirit of trying to all "get along". Here's my list:

What I will offer you as a tourist:

1. A smile. I'll ask where you're from and join in your excitement at being on our beautiful island.
2. I'll give you directions if you ask, or suggestions on where to eat and what to do.
3. I'll warn you about waves you may not understand, tell you to stand sideways when a big wave rolls in while you're standing head on. I'll tell you to dive under rather than letting the wave break on you. I'll let you know to never turn your back on the ocean.
4. I'll help you fold those Tommy Bahama chairs that no one seems to be able to figure out how to close or I'll help you with your umbrella.
5. I'll point out a big sea turtle that's about to swim into you when you're totally unaware, but I can spot them more easily.
6. I'll encourage you when it's your last day and you're really devastated that you don't live here that this "time in paradise" is over for you.
7. I'll watch and enjoy you having the time of your life, playing like a kid again because you're on the beach and the biggest decision of your day isn't about work but which beach you'll go to today or whether you're going to lay out or swim or build a sand castle.
8. I'll remind you to cover up or wear more (reef safe) sunscreen when I can tell you're going to be burnt to a crisp because you don't realize we're close to the equator and we've seen many guests suffer from extreme sunburns.

What I'll ask of you as a tourist where I live:

1. Take your time, drive slowly, stop for people in crosswalks. We're not in a hurry here, we have a different pace of life.
2. Don't honk. It's considered rude here. Patience is key.
3. Be kind to your servers. They take on a lot and are probably underpaid. Most locals have to work several jobs to make ends meet on the island.
4. Respect private property. It can be exciting to follow the crowd to see something new but it may not be open to the public.
5. Pick up your trash. We have a beautiful island and we have to take care of it.
6. Don't stand on the coral. It kills it.
7. Don't touch the turtles or bother the Monk Seals.
8. Follow the rules, even when they don't make sense. You're a guest on the island. If we have to follow the rules, you do too!
9. Be respectful of the people that work and live here. With over 1,000,000 tourists a year, not everyone is on vacation and they may be trying to get to work or get home.
